Federally Exempt Interest Dividends

All interest income dividends paid in the 2023 calendar year by each fund listed above that are designated as Exempt Interest Dividends are entirely exempt from regular federal individual income taxes (“federally Exempt Interest Dividends”). Although federally Exempt Interest Dividends are not subject to regular federal taxation, these dividends must be reported on your 2023 federal income tax return. The amount of federally Exempt Interest Dividends will be reported on your Form 1099-DIV and 2023 year-end mutual fund account statement.

Information Regarding Alternative Minimum Tax

A portion of the federally Exempt Interest Dividends paid by the funds in 2023 was from private activity municipal bonds, which are generally higher yielding than comparable bonds. The private activity municipal bond interest portion of these dividends may be subject to the federal Alternative Minimum Tax (“AMT”) for some investors.

The tables below (Table A & Table C) provide the percentage of federally Exempt Interest Dividends paid by the funds during 2023 (assuming shares of your fund were held for the entire 2023 calendar year) to be included as a preference item in calculating the federal AMT. Your tax advisor can provide you with more detailed information regarding federal AMT, which only affects certain investors.

Information Specific to Shareholders of State Specific Funds

State tax laws vary with regard to state and local taxation of federally Exempt Interest Dividends. Many states provide that interest on all home state municipal bonds are not subject to state and local taxes. Other states do not provide for tax exemption on federally Exempt Interest Dividends earned on home state bonds if the bonds are owned indirectly through an investment in a regulated investment company. Further, other states, such as Wisconsin, limit the tax exemption on federally Exempt Interest Dividends to certain specified home state bonds. Additionally, in many states the federally Exempt Interest Dividends that are derived from interest on bonds issued by U.S. Territories and U.S. Possessions are exempt from state and local taxes.

The following Table A provides the percentage of federally Exempt Interest Dividend income earned by each Nuveen state specific municipal mutual fund during 2023 (assuming shares of your fund were held for the entire 2023 calendar year) in its home jurisdiction, in U.S. Territories and Possessions, and other states in which these funds had investments. Depending on your state tax laws, this information may be used in determining the dividend amount that may be exempt from your state and/or local income taxes. You should be aware that some states require a minimum percentage of home state bonds to permit the state tax exemption. Consult your tax advisor to determine whether such interest is exempt from your state and/or local taxes.

Information Specific to Indiana Shareholders:

Indiana generally limits the tax exemption on federally Exempt Interest Dividends to Indiana home state bonds, interest derived on bonds issued by U.S. Territories and Possessions and/or interest from municipal bonds from another state or political subdivision acquired before January 1, 2012.

Additional information to help you prepare your 2023 Indiana state income tax returns will be available in mid to late January on the Nuveen website at www.nuveen.com/en-us/investments/tax-information-forms-and-applications#mutual-funds.

Information Specific to Minnesota Shareholders:

The state of Minnesota requires each fund to notify shareholders of the amount of federally Exempt Income Dividends that are not exempt from Minnesota income tax. Table B below shows the percentage of federally Exempt Income Dividends received from each Minnesota fund (assuming shares of your fund were held for the entire 2023 calendar year) that must be included in Minnesota taxable income.

Information Specific to Utah Shareholders:

Utah generally limits the tax exemption on federally Exempt Interest Dividends to Utah home state bonds, interest derived on bonds issued by U.S. Territories and Possessions, interest derived on bonds issued by most non-federal-government entities outside of Utah purchased prior to January 1, 2003, and/or interest derived on bonds issued by states that don't impose an income tax on Utah municipal bonds.

Additional information to help you prepare your 2023 Utah state income tax returns will be available in mid to late January on the Nuveen website at www.nuveen.com/en-us/investments/tax-information-forms-and-applications#mutual-funds.

Information Specific to Tennessee Shareholders:

Tennessee repealed its tax on dividend and interest income for all tax periods beginning on or after January 1, 2021. Please consult your tax advisor regarding how this change affects your investment in the Funds.

Information Specific to Massachusetts Shareholders:

As of January 1, 2022, Massachusetts adopted the Internal Revenue Code in effect on January 1, 2022. Please consult your tax advisor regarding how this change affects your investment in the Funds.

Information Specific to Shareholders of National Funds:

The following Table C provides the percentage of federally Exempt Interest Dividend income earned by each Nuveen national municipal mutual fund during 2023 (assuming shares of your fund were held for the entire 2023 calendar year) and each of the various states and U.S. Territories and Possessions in which these funds had investments. Depending on your state tax laws, this information may be used in determining the dividend amount that may be exempt from your state and/or local income taxes. You should be aware that some states require a minimum percentage of home state bonds to permit the state tax exemption. Consult your tax advisor to determine whether such interest is exempt from your state and/or local taxes.

* Certain states have special exemptions for income earned from U.S. government securities and tax-free municipal securities issued in that state and/or U.S. territory. Please consult your tax advisor or state tax agency about the specific rules in your state.

<sup>1</sup> Certain states require mutual funds to meet investment thresholds before a shareholder can exempt distributions attributable to their home state. In 2023, none of the funds listed above satisfied the thresholds imposed by California or Minnesota.
