Integration of Sustainability Risks

The Company has adopted the sustainability risk statement (the “Statement”) of Nuveen Fund Advisors, LLC (the “Investment Manager”) in order to integrate sustainability risks into investment decisions for its sub-funds (the “Funds”). A sustainability risk is an environmental, social or governance (“ESG”) event or condition that, if it occurs, could cause an actual or a potential material negative impact on the value of an investment.

While the Statement is applicable to the Investment Manager and all of its affiliates, including each sub investment manager appointed by the Investment Manager in respect of one or more Sub-Funds (each, a “Sub Investment Manager”), each Sub Investment Manager takes a unique investment approach to pursuing competitive risk-adjusted returns on behalf of the Funds.

Each Sub Investment Manager considers ESG factors as part of its investment research, due diligence, portfolio construction and ongoing monitoring as part of its active portfolio management strategy for the relevant Funds.

The likely impacts of sustainability risks on the returns of each Fund will depend on each Fund’s exposure to such investment and the materiality of the sustainability risk. The risk of a sustainability risk arising in respect of each Fund should be mitigated by the relevant Sub Investment Manager’s approach to integrating sustainability risk in its investment decision-making and the applicable Fund’s investment policy. However, there is no guarantee that these measures will mitigate or prevent a sustainability risk materialising in respect of a Fund.

Further information on the Company and the Investment Manager’s Statement is available at www.nuveen.com/ucits.

No Consideration of Adverse Sustainability Impacts

In addition to integrating material ESG factors across investment processes, the Company and the Investment Manager believe that all investments have impacts on society and the environment. The Investment Manager aims to assess these effects and, where possible, promote the positive and mitigate the negative. Across asset classes, a growing number of opportunities exist for pursuing specific, measurable and positive social and environmental results that contribute to long-term financial returns. The Investment Manager is dedicated to identifying such opportunities and measuring the impact of those investments. In addition, the Investment Manager seeks to engage with management, boards, tenants and operators to encourage ESG best practice, with the ultimate goal of better outcomes for people and the planet.

The regulatory environment in which the Company and the Investment Manager are operating is evolving and the expectations of competent regulatory authorities regarding how ESG factors and their adverse impacts should be defined and evaluated are not yet developed to the full extent. As such, there is no definitive guidance available at this time in relation to the systems, controls and measures that would need to be put in place in order to provide a principal adverse impacts statement in line with the requirements of Article 4(1)(a) of SFDR.

In light of these circumstances, the Company applies Article 4(1)(b) of SFDR and does not currently consider adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors for all Funds but will continue to keep this decision under review as matters evolve.

With regard to the Nuveen U.S. Core Impact Bond Fund, which has a sustainable investment objective as described below and in the section of the Prospectus entitled “Investment Objective and Policies of the Funds”, available at www.nuveen.com/ucits, the Company shall consider adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors and shall make the relevant disclosures in this regard by 30 December 2022 in accordance with the requirements of Article 7(1) of SFDR and the applicable regulatory technical standards.

Further information on the Company and the Investment Manager’s consideration of adverse sustainability impacts is available at www.nuveen.com/ucits.
